Organization and Control—Incorporated in Pennsylvania in 1887, with power to construct and operate machinery for supplying motive power to passenger railways, and to lease, operate and purchase securities of companies which it supplies with power, or whose property it leases. The company has not the power to build railways, nor has it ever constructed any. It leases for 999 years the properties of the Pittsburgh, Oakland & East Liberty Ry. Co., the Central Transit Co., and Bloomfield St. Ry. Co. and owns the entire capital stock of each company. Leased for 950 years to the Consolidated Traction Company of Pittsburgh, which is controlled by the Philadelphia company, and operated by the Pittsburgh Ry. Co. Lease provides for the payment of interest, taxes, operating and maintenance expenses and 7% per annum on the stock.

April 23, 1918, the Pittsburgh Rys. Co. was placed in the hands of receivers.

Capitalization	Outstanding
Common	$2,500,000
Funded debt	750,000

Secured by a first mortgage on the power plants of the company (most of which are now probably in disuse) and a first lien on the entire $150,000 capital stock of the Pittsburgh, O. & E. L. Ry. Co. and the entire $100,000 capital stock of the Central Transit Co. The companies whose stock is deposited own street railways from Market St. on Fifth Ave. to Shady Ave., on Shady and S. Hiland Aves. from Fifth Ave. to Penn. Aves., and on Atwood St. from Fifth Ave. to Boquet St. to Frazier St. to Ward St. to Atwood St. Fifth Avenue is one of the principal business streets in Pittsburgh and this line affords transit facilities between the heart of that city and the residential section in the East End, and also Wilkinsburg and other populous suburban towns. Franchises are perpetual. The mortgage contains no provision preventing the companies whose stock are deposited from placing a direct mortgage on their property.

Note—The Pittsburgh, Oakland & East Liberty St. Ry. Co. owns 13.7 miles of track and has a perpetual franchise. The Central Transit Co. owns 0.73 miles of track and has a 500-year franchise. Neither company has any mortgage debt.

This coal will be coked by the Rainey-Wood Coke Company and delivered to the Alan Wood Iron & Steel Company and to blast furnaces and foundries in the East.

The Alan Wood Iron & Steel Company's plant comprises three modern blast furnaces of a total combined monthly capacity of about 42,000 tons and 12 modern 65 to 75-ton open hearth furnaces and sheet mills, plate mill, billet and blooming mill.

Organization and Control—Incorporated in Illinois in 1920 for the purpose of constructing and operating the Roberts' By Product Coke Ovens. The American Coke & Chemical Co., owners of the Roberts patents, and from whom this company gets its license under the Roberts patents, has agreed not to issue any other license for the construction and operation of merchant coke ovens or coke oven plants to supply merchant iron blast furnace plants in the St. Louis Industrial Zone, under the aforesaid patents. The St. Louis Industrial Zone is assumed to be a circle fifty miles in diamenter with its center at the middle of Eads Bridge. The American Company reserved the right, however, to issue such licenses should the St. Louis Company fail, within nine months after reasonable showing, to contract for such additions to its plants as may be necessary to take care of the existing demand in the aforesaid district which its then existing plant cannot supply.

If the American Company grants any license in the aforesaid zone for other than merchant ovens or merchant blast furnace purposes, it must then pay to the St. Louis Company one-half of the money received by it for the license.

The American Coke & Chemical Co. owns a majority of the outstanding common stock of this company.

The company has entered into contracts with the National Enamel & Stamping Company under which that company agrees to take for five years all of the iron and by-product tar and all of the gas required in its Granite City steel works up to the entire capacity of the St. Louis Coke & Chemical Company's plants. The price for iron under the contracts is to be adjusted monthly and is to fluctuate with the Chicago price of basic pig iron delivered at Granite City. The National Company will thereby receive molten metal at cold metal prices for use in its open hearth furnaces. Similarly, the prices fixed for tar and gas are made to vary with the coal miners' wage scale in the Illionis district.

Secured by pledge with the trustees of all the capital stocks and other securities of subsidiary companies now owned or hereafter acquired.

The company may not, and will not, permit any subsidiary to create any liens unless deposited under the trust agreement excepting liens on marine equipment and tank cars and purchase money obligations.

The corporation and subsidiaries own (1) a 90% interest in leases on approximately 500,000 acres in the principal oil fields in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and Wyoming, about 30,000 acres being what is termed producing acreage, the balance being reserved for future development; (2) leases on over 150,000 acres scattered through the heavy and light oil districts of Mexico; some 5,200 acres of which is under development, the balance being reserved for future development; (3) long-term concessions for the exclusive exploration of approximately 1,000,000 acres in Costa Rica and approximately 1,280,000 acres in Panama; (4) a substantial interest in a concession covering approximately 75,000 square miles in Angola, Africa. Actual drilling and exploration work has commenced on all these concessions. The production from the properties in the United States is considered settled and stable, the oil at this time being produced from approximately 1,860 wells. From the properties in Mexico the company is producing and exporting in its own facilities approximately 20,000 barrels of oil per day and has a potential production of approximately 100,000 barrels per day. In addition, the corporation has a substantial interest in the Mexican Seaboard Oil Co., which is now producing and selling approximately 36,000 barrels of oil per day.

The pipe line system is of modern construction, aggregating about 2,800 miles of trunk and gathering lines, extending throughout practically all the oil producing districts of Kansas, Oklahoma and North Texas, and producing daily about 65% of all the light grade crude oil produced in the United States. The main trunk line extends from the Ranger fields in Texas to East Chicago.

Ten modern refineries with an aggregate daily capacity in excess of 45,000 barrels of crude oil, manufacturing practically all the by-products of petroleum, are located at East Chicago, Kansas City, Chanute, Coffeyville, Vinita, Muskogee, Cushing, Houston, New Orleans, and Wellsville, N. Y. In addition, ten plants are owned and operated for the manufacture of gasoline from casing-head gas, with a capacity of 45,000 gallons per day.

In Cuba the company is a large distributor of fuel oil.

Trustees—Continental & Commercial Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, and (co-trustee) California Trust & Savings Bank, Sacramento, Cal.

Guaranteed principal and interest by J. Ogden Armour.

Organization—Incorporated in California in April, 1913.

Capitalization.	Outstanding.
Common	$6,000,000
Funded debt	6,000,000

Secured by a mortgage covering the company's holdings of 45,654 acres of land lying within Reclamation District No. 1500 and 9,468 acres within the Sutter By-Pass (which is an artificial channel created to carry off surplus overflow waters) in Sutter County, California, at the confluence of the Sacramento and Feather Rivers, approximately 22 miles above the city of Sacramento. The 45,654 acres are completely reclaimed in accordance with the general Flood Control Plan adopted by the United States Government and the State of California. Additionally secured by pledge of all of the stock of the Sutter Basin Improvement Company, which owns approximately 5,268 acres lying without District No. 1500 but adjacent thereto, and all of the stock of Sutter Basin Company, of which approximately 60% is owned by Mr. J. Ogden Armour and members of his immediate family, the remaining 40% being owned by his associates in the management of the Sutter Basin Company.

The mortgage provides for the release of lands based upon a scale of payments to the trustee sufficient to provide substantially 50% in excess of the entire amount of the bonded debt. If land is sold, the entire amount necessary to release shall be deposited with the trustee to be used either for the retirement of the principal of bonds, or for the acquirement of other real property within District No. 1500, which must be subjected to the lien of this mortgage.

The 55,122 acres owned by the company have been appraised by a qualified, disinterested appraiser at a total valuation of approximately $17,000,000. This figure does not give consideration to the lands of Sutter Basin Improvement Company. Sutter Basin Company has no other mortgage indebtedness, and the present mortgage is a first lien on the lands described, except only in respect to a lien represented by an assessment for reclamation purposes against all lands lying within the District. Sutter Basin Company's share of this assessment amounts to approximately $3,850,000. The entire amount of the assessment, plus similar assessments against other lands, not owned by this company lying within the District, has been funded into an issue of approximately $5,000,000 District No. 1500 bonds, none of which mature prior to January 1, 1930. Similar assessments which may be made against the lands from time to time, may, under the laws of the State, be funded into bonds maturing over a period of twenty years and, therefore, are not burdensome. There are no assessments against the By-Pass acreage.

Secured by a first mortgage upon all the assets of the company consisting of the distributing system in National City and the City of Chula Vista, and certain territory contiguous thereto, all in San Diego County, together with real estate, rights of way, Sweetwater Dam, weirs, head-gates, and other irrigation works. The company owns fee to the lands used as the Sweetwater Reservoir. Outside of the cities of National City and Chula Vista, the rights of way for pipe lines were obtained years ago, many of them during the '80's, by reservation in deeds; others were obtained by prescription and easement over lands served.

The water supply is obtained by impounding the flow of the Sweetwater River, a stream that has its source in the Cuyamaca mountains 60 miles east of the reservoir and drains an area of 182 square miles. Filings on this stream were made in 1886 and subsequently, none of which filings have ever been contested.

The territory served by this company is approximately 4,000 acres, located in the cities of National City and Chula Vista, and the Sweetwater Valley. Rates are subject to the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.
